

Diplomat Communications in the Nordic top

Diplomat Communications is one of the leading communications advisors in the Nordic region according to The Holmes Report, which nominated Diplomat and four other companies 'Best Nordic PR-bureau 2010'.

The Holmes Report nominations are made after interviews with employees and customers, awards in competitions and economic data such as growth for example. Diplomat Communications was the youngest company to be nominated in the category 'Best Nordic PR-bureau'. Other nominees were Hallvarsson & Halvarsson, JKL Group, Jung Relations and Prime PR. The winner of the award was Jung Relations.

The Holmes Reports yearly award lies behind the international PR-contest Sabre Awards.

Anna-Karin Hedlund, CEO at Diplomat Communications says: "Diplomat Communications has in a short time had a strong growth and development. The nomination 'Best Nordic PR-bureau 2010' confirms our strong performance and is a magnificent context to be seen in."
